Sukarno Says War To Persist

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Snarling, shouting and shoeless, President Sukarno asserted today that Indonesia's undeclared war against Malaysia would continue.

"Continuation will continue," Sukarno declared in an hour-long address after he swore in a new cabinet. "Malaysia as such is a neocolonial project."

Sukarno, 65, now largely a figurehead, kicked off his shoes as he began his speech. His face reddening with anger, he alternately shouted and whispered at his audience. Lt. Gen. Suharto, the army strongman who forced Sukarno to give up his authority last March and who heads the new cabinet, stood stony-faced as the president spoke. Suharto was promoted to full general at the ceremony.

After Suharto and the army took control last March, one of their first actions was to halt the three-year-old war with Malaysia and begin negotiations to establish normal relations. The moves were endorsed by the Indonesian Congress last month.

Sukarno tempered his defiance of the peace moves by saying Indonesian confrontation could be ended only on the basis of the Manila agreement.

This accord, reached in the summer of 1963 by Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman of Malaysia, and then President Diosdado Macapagal of the Philippines and Sukarno, called for self-determination for the people of Sabah and Sarawak, the Malaysian states on the island of Borneo.

Idaho Guard To Be Ready For Fires

BOISE (AP)—Gov. Robert E. Smylie issued today an order making Idaho's National Guard available to fight forest and range fires if needed.

The order directs all state agencies to take whatever steps are necessary to deal with any emergency.

Smylie said he signed the order because the "threat of forest and range fires grows greater daily."

The state of emergency will continue, Smylie said, until it is terminated by another proclamation.

Restrictions Listed for Forest Areas

In an effort to curb fires, limited closure of five national forests including the Sawtooth National Forest, has been declared by Regional Forester Floyd Iverson, Ogden.

Iverson explained that the regulations were necessary because of the extremely critical fire conditions in the forests. He said that the dry conditions of the national forests in southern Idaho and northwest Utah due to the lack of rain and a record-breaking period of high temperatures have necessitated the closures.

Under the new restrictions, fires will be allowed in the forests, but smoking is prohibited except in buildings, motor vehicles and in improved areas. The designated improved areas include old towns, campgrounds and picnic and resort facilities or places of habitation.

No fires, except in improved campgrounds, without a fire permit will be allowed. Campfires will be allowed in limited areas for heat or floating parties on the Salmon River.

Max Beck, supervisor of the Sawtooth National Forest, pointed out that fire permits may be obtained from any district ranger and are free of charge. He said that it is extremely important the campers obtain these permits as anyone violating the restriction will be guilty of misdemeanor and subject to prosecution.

Beck stated the primary purpose of the permit is to allow the forest service to know where fires are being built. He said that in some areas where fire conditions are extremely critical, permits will not be allowed.

Persons subject to the new restrictions are the Hells, Challis, Payette, Salmon and Sawtooth.

Approximately 5,500 acres of forest have already burned this year in the Sawtooth National Forest alone, Beck said.

UNEMPLOYMENT UP
BOISE (AP)—Unemployment gained in June, the Idaho Department of Employment reported Thursday, adding 400 jobs to the state's unemployment rolls for more than a year.

Advice

WASHINGTON (AP)—The two top Republicans in the House said today they are advising GOP congressional candidates against making the Vietnam war the centerpiece of their campaign issue this fall.

But both Rep. Gerald R. Ford, the House GOP leader, and Rep. Melvin R. Laird, chairman of the House GOP Conference, agreed that the war will play a major role in the congressional campaign in which all 435 House seats and 35 Senate seats will be at stake.

Air Force Official to Address Meet

BURLEY—An Air Force official from the nation's capital will address a joint meeting of Burley service clubs Friday evening at the Burley Elks hall to open the Second Annual Aerospace Days of Idaho.

Col. Francis MacKenzie, Air Force Systems Command, Washington, D.C., will speak on "Our Aerospace Tomorrow" and narrate a film.

At 2 p.m. Friday jet planes from the Mountain Home Air Force Base will perform in a fly-by over the area, flying at 1,000 feet. The Aerospace parade is scheduled to start at 3 p.m. Friday from the Overland shopping center.

Flights will go north on Overland Avenue to Main Street, then east on Main street to East Park where the parade will disband. At 6 p.m. dedication services will be conducted for the 133-Airway presented to the city of Burley by the Idaho Air Force Association.

Speakers at the dedication will be Eugene M. Zucker, Washington, D.C., and Gov. Robert E. Smylie.

After the dedication service trophies will be presented to winners of the best floats in the parade and an aerospace queen will be crowned. Service clubs, marching bands, aerospace ex-See AEROSPACE, Page 2, Col. 5

County Lines Will Be Crossed in Tuesday's Vote

Voters in six Magic Valley counties will be crossing county lines when they elect state legislators in Tuesday's Primary election.

Voting for the first time in the newly-created Legislative Districts 21 and 22, each of which includes three counties, will be residents of Blaine, Lincoln, and Minidoka, Camas, Gooding and Jerome.

District 21 includes Blaine, Lincoln and Minidoka, while the other three counties are combined to form District 22. Each

More Than 90 Try to Retain Idaho Legislative Positions

By EARLE L. JESTER

BOISE (AP)—More than 90 of the 123 members of the 1965 session are seeking to retain places in Idaho's legislature but some familiar faces of the past won't be back. Some gave up their legislative seats to campaign for other offices while reapportionment is taking out others. The 1965 legislature had 44 senators and 79 representatives. The 1967 session will have 35 senators and 70 representatives.

Each of 35 legislative districts will choose one senator and two representatives and because of the combination of counties to form districts some lawmakers find themselves competing for one seat. In the past each county had one senator and at least one representative.

Nominations for legislative posts are at stake in next Tuesday's primary election, along with those for state, congressional and county offices.

Only one of the five top Senate leaders in the 1965 legislature will be back for the 1967 session. All of the five House leaders are seeking to return and only one has opposition in the primary.

The House speaker, Rep. Pete T. Carrasco of Carey, was Republican representative from Blaine County in the 1965 session. Reapportionment puts Blaine County in Legislative District 21, along with Lincoln and Minidoka counties.

All three incumbent representatives from the three counties are Republicans and all are running for the two nominations at stake. Thus one is certain to be eliminated in the primary. Contending with Carrasco are Rep. Dale Garner of Minidoka County and Rep. Ward Mills of Lincoln County.

Unopposed for nominations for their party are the four other House leaders: Rep. William Lanting, majority leader, Twin Falls; Rep. Harold Snow, assistant majority leader, Latah; Rep. Darrell Manning, minority leader, Blaine; and Rep. Tony Wessels, assistant minority leader, Idaho.

In the Senate, three of the five party leaders of the 1965 session are seeking other offices and the other is not running for any job this year.

Dropping out are Sen. George Hille, Twin Falls, the Republican majority leader, and Sen. Richard A. Egbert, Tetonia, the Democratic assistant minority leader.

Sen. Jack Murphy, Lincoln, who was president pro tem in the past two sessions, is a candidate for the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor; See LEGISLATURE, Page 2, Col. 5

Senate Unit Rejects Strike Talks, Takes Action of Its Own

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Labor Committee rejected today the proposal that it send airlines strike negotiators back to the bargaining table, and moved on toward action of its own. The bargaining suggestion, followed closely the administration advice offered by Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, was proposed at a closed-door committee session by Sen. Claiborne Pell, D-R.I. Sen. Lister Hill, D-Ala., said the vote against it was 10 to 5. "It doesn't do anything," Hill said.

With that plan rejected, the committee set another session later today to consider strike-stopping legislation proposed by Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore.

Morse said the committee clearly rejected the administration program, and declared he means to get a vote on his own plan either there or on the Senate floor.

Hill's resolution would have had the Senate declare that the public interest requires settlement and talks must proceed with all deliberations through free collective bargaining.

It would have ordered close Senate scrutiny of the talks. Morse said he will go to the Senate itself if the committee does not accept his bill for a six-months back-to-work order.

Strike Makes Deeper Cut Into Economy

NEW YORK (AP)—The 21-day-old airline strike is making a deepening cut into the economy, bringing daily losses in the millions to tourism, industry and the general public.

An Associated Press survey found that hotels, food and fuel suppliers, flower dealers and other service personnel who depend on planes for their livelihood have been severely hurt.

A spokesman for New York City's Convention and Visitors Bureau estimated, its tourist industry losses were running at $750,000 a day while the president of the Chamber of Commerce said the strike alone is reaching "catastrophic proportions."

Suppliers of food and fuel to the airlines have also been hurt. A spokesman for the Bureau of Economic Analysis said the strike alone is reaching "catastrophic proportions."

Shrimp Boats Rescue 51 From Ship

PORT ARANSAS, Tex. (AP)—Shrimp boats heading into the Gulf of Mexico for a night's catch teamed for a swift and dramatic rescue of all 51 persons forced overboard as the sports fishing craft, the Marlin Queen, caught fire late Wednesday.

The Marlin Queen, later wrecked by an explosion, burned and sank. It was in the Gulf of Mexico, about 100 miles off the Texas coast, when a passenger shouted, "Smoke! Smoke!"

Forty-eight passengers and three crewmen, including the skipper, Tom Hatt, were rescued by the shrimp boats. The Marlin Queen was on fire when it was sighted by the shrimp boats.

Goldwater Wire Shown By Samuelson

BOISE (AP)—A Republican candidate for governor made public today a telegram from Barry Goldwater in which the 1964 Republican presidential nominee said he does not endorse candidates in a primary contest.

State Sen. Don Samuelson of Sandpoint disclosed the telegram a day after Goldwater's dispatch from Washington, D.C., to the Idaho Daily Statesman quoted Goldwater as expressing support for Gov. Robert E. Smylie, Samuelson's opponent in the primary.

Negative Record

Belatedly, some of the citizens who would like to "vote against" Gov. Robert E. Smylie are realizing they would be voting for State Sen. Don Samuelson, the governor's opponent in Tuesday's primary election. Dick Smith, a member of the Idaho Board of Education, pointed out the other day at Rexburg that Samuelson's record in support of education is nil. Smith, who was a candidate for Congress two years ago, said if the last three sessions of the Legislature had followed Samuelson's voting record, the University of Idaho and Idaho State University would have only half the students now enrolled.

A news service report quoted Smith as saying Samuelson voted against the sales tax, against public school appropriations in 1953 and 1955, against the Permanent Building Fund in 1961 and against the appropriation for the Youth Training Center at St. Anthony. He pointed out the Building Fund has provided for $10 million in new construction at the University of Idaho and $7 million at Idaho State University.

It adds up to a pretty horrible recommendation for anyone who might aspire to be governor in a state that has notoriously lagged behind its responsibility to education. Although Idaho has made tremendous strides—in the last couple of years, it still lags behind the average state in support of education by the "only standard that's significant, per capita expenditure for students."

Mr. Samuelson opposed some popular legislation during the 1965 session of the Legislature. Among other things, he voted against the junior college district plan, the public school income fund and appropriations for Idaho State University. Other Samuelson votes were cast against Boise Junior College, Boise Children's Home, Veterans Home, Boise Memorial Hospital, State Historical Museum, blister rust control, noxious weed control, state parks, youth forestry conservation, county zoning, improving county boards of health, improving teachers' retirement system and against the appropriation to operate the state prison.

Undoubtedly Mr. Samuelson could explain his negative record quite well. In fact, he defended his vote against the sales tax while visiting in Twin Falls with the bland explanation that he actually favored the sales tax but had to vote against it because his home county is bounded by Washington, Canada and Montana.

Voters who rationalize to themselves about voting against the governor had better wake up and realize there's no way of voting against anyone without voting for another candidate. The consequences of voting for Mr. Samuelson show plainly in his negative record.

TIME RUNS OUT

Every election there are a few citizens who show up at a polling place only to find they're not eligible to vote because they haven't registered. And always, these persons can't understand what has happened. Yet it's quite simple. Voters who don't bother to vote in a couple of consecutive elections are removed from the lists of voters. If something wasn't done to clean up the voting roster the list would include everyone who ever lived in a precinct and all the persons who have been dead for years.

Another oversight on the part of voters is the little matter of moving. A voter's registration doesn't automatically follow the individual around whenever he moves to another precinct, city or county. It comes as something of a shock to the casual voter who thinks he can register when he becomes 21 years old and then vote anywhere he happens to be for the rest of his life.

There are all sorts of confusions for voters on this matter of registration, including those who believe they can register once and vote in any election—national, state, city or school district. Registration is the same for national and state elections, but there's no connection with either city, school district or any other lower echelon voting.

As in other years, time is running out for those citizens who aren't registered. Eligible persons must be registered before 9 p.m. Saturday if they plan to vote in next Tuesday's primary election. Those who should check on registration include anyone who has moved in the last couple of years, anyone who is uncertain about when he voted the last time, or anyone who has the slightest doubt about being registered properly. It will be too late to be concerned next Tuesday.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

By ANDREW TULLY

WASHINGTON—Vice President Humphrey and Martin Luther King to the contrary notwithstanding, it should be clear to everybody by now that riots in American cities have nothing to do with civil rights. The riots are the work of outlaws who comprise a slim minority of the 10 per cent of the country's population, and they should be dealt with as the authorities would deal with any other armed mob.

Although these hoodlums need no excuse of their rioting, they find phony justification in Humphrey's remark that if he lived in a Negro ghetto he might "lead a mighty good revolt" himself, and King's statement that the riots are a demonstration of protest against racial injustice. By such puerilities, both Humphrey and King have degraded the civil rights movement and to the reputation of the Negro community.

THE "RIGHT" TO LOOT—Looting stores has nothing to do with the civil rights cause. Nor is the cause served by sniping at policemen and both white and black citizens from rooftops, by knifings in alleys, by rock-throwing, by smashing shop windows, or by general looting in the streets. Indeed, such violence is causing many white citizens to wonder whether the Negro has the responsibility to assume full citizenship.

Such a white backlash is tragic. Blaming the Negro community for the riots is like blaming all white men for the sins of John Dillinger or the massacre of eight student nurses in Chicago by a white man. One pathetic incident illustrates the concern and the rage that the riots have brought to the Negro community.

In the racially tense Brownsville section of Brooklyn, 40 Negro tenants were evicted from two apartment houses because they were terrified by the continued violence in their little neighborhood caused by white-organized gangs and Negro street gangs. Before their evacuation, two Negroes were shot in the back and three whites were knifed. Windows in the apartment buildings were either shattered or boarded up.

BLAME GANGS—The full Negro tenants who were moved out, "were so full of fear they began to get things out of their heads," explained Rev. James Regan, a Roman Catholic priest who assisted in the evacuation. "Get rid of the gangs," said a Negro homemaker, "Get rid of them all before we get things out of our heads."

Another Negro said the riots were the work of white Puerto Ricans and Black Muslim families, and added, "People like that, you're going to have trouble with them as long as they exist." In short, it is the Negro himself who is the principal victim of his riots. He has to live in the neighborhoods where the riots take place, and he is much more outraged by the shootings and knifings and looting than is the white citizen who has been evicted from an apartment house. The Negro with a knife in his back has no time for philosophical discussions of the causes of these riots.

THEORY OF RIOTS—In New York, in Cleveland and in Chicago, hoodlums of the criminal, Negro fringe have broken out of bounds because they figure they can get away with it behind the protective coloration of the civil rights cause. They have been egged off by the biased utterances of the do-gooders that the Negro has a right to revolt violently against his lot. In effect, they have been practically invited to get their hands on the law. They have looted a store or shot a cop. The theory of law and order has been replaced by the dictum that it's all right to riot if you're black and deprived.

There is no difference between the Negro mobs and the white mobs of the Ku Klux Klan and other white racists. They are hysterical and bestial and unthinking. They are taking out on society their frustrations and insecurities. And when they are beaten or killed, they are treated as the nearest jail even if they wear polka dot skirts.

It is all very well for Humphrey and King to issue warnings about racial violence in the Negro ghetto. But the Negro's lot is bettered by the warnings should be by warnings from mayors and chiefs of police that the law will protect the decent citizen's right to live in peace.

WHY NEW MEXICO?

New Mexico's senators have introduced a bill to establish a National Nuclear Museum in their state.

The motivation, of course, was the recognition of the Los Alamos and Alamogordo sites where the original atomic bomb was prepared and detonated.

But the question quickly arises, why should the U.S. establish a national nuclear museum based on the desert frontier wilderness?

Congress would be far more adroit in basing such a museum where the peaceful atom has been enshrined. Not only would national pride but world diplomacy be served by such a decision.

We unashamedly recommend that the National Reactor Testing Station in Idaho be the site of any such national nuclear museum.

It was in Idaho that the electricity from the atom was recorded. It was in Idaho where atomic fuel breeding was proved. It was here that a full lining of plutonium, the man-made fuel which holds such bright promise for the future energy of the world, was first used. It was in Idaho where the turbine engine was first powered by the atom. It was in Idaho that hydrocarbon were first tested as a reactor moderator and coolant. It was in Idaho that the atomic population was demonstrated for ships.

There are countless other contributions. The list would fill this page. Reactors now operating in Japan, Belgium, and Germany, or California, for example, owe their identity to the most resourceful scientific pioneers on the atomic front in this country.

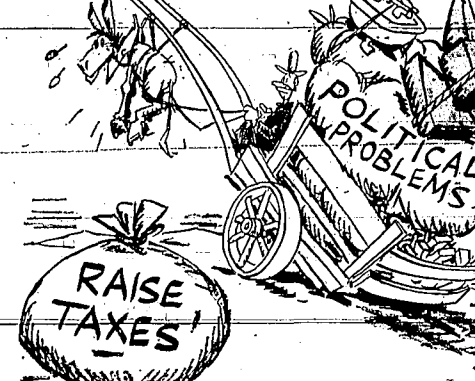

New Mexico will argue its "space missions and other new assignments in atomic technology. But it is after a museum, and the New Mexico heritage is everywhere recognized as a national treasure.

It was really in Idaho where the peaceful atom was born, and at least until lately, was carefully cultivated—Idaho Falls Post-Register.

Among the many futility exercises to man it seems to us likely that none is more notable than getting to the office early on the ground they will catch up on some back work.

"He Says He's Already Loaded!"

Four men stand elbow-to-elbow at the side of the church altar—the groom, his best man, a Roman Catholic priest and a Protestant minister. The Catholic bride advances up the aisle and halts. She is the organ tones subside, and the Protestant groom steps over beside her.

"Dearest, beloved," the Presbyterian clergyman intones, after prayer opening the marriage rites, and then he reads from Scripture.

At the central portion of the service, the Roman Catholic priest leads the couple in the marriage vows. Then the Presbyterian minister takes over again, for more Scripture reading, a short talk and the benediction.

This has become the frequent ecclesiastical style for mixed marriages today—an ecumenical approach which until recently was forbidden by Rome.

Respective roles accorded the Roman Catholic and Protestant clergyman still are points of some tension. Some Protestants decline participation, under the present rules.

Nevertheless, such jointly celebrated ceremonies are becoming increasingly common, most of them taking place quietly without fanfare, sometimes at the request of Catholic brides who feel the affair not to be publicized.

But in many dioceses, scores of them have occurred since the late 1950s when Rome liberalized its position.

Forms of the ceremonies and extent of Protestant participation vary from place to place, but the Catholic rite, requiring that the priest receive the couple's vows as witness.

The service ended at the start of the ceremony was held at Holy Cross Catholic Church, Portland, Ore., at the marriage of Presbyterian Roy W. Adams, of the Oregon Episcopal Diocese of the Portland area, and his wife, Pat, as they described it to

"As a result of this sound, some horrible looking red glowy empires from the neck of the bottle and lays itself over some perfectly innocent french fries, which are then turned around in their life."

"Work, wine and food make up the wonderful world of Alfred Hitchcock, and he loves to discover what the things are. One of his favorite dimmers was an all-blue meal he threw as a practical joke for the late Gertrude Lawrence."

"I served blue soup, blue bread, blue trout, blue chicken and blue ice cream," he recalled fondly. "It was quite a success."

He has a private wine cellar of 4,000 bottles, including some going back to 1900 for which he never offered $100 a bottle to other connoisseurs. He uncorks them sparingly because, as usual, he is having wistful thoughts.

His weight, which hits varied from 100 to 200, now hovers around 218.

"We just about 100 pounds as a pound figure in my time," he said cheerfully.

"I believe that the real trouble with people like me is that we simply have too much of everything."

The director is famed for his equality. Methodically, he sketches his scenes in advance, never raises his voice or bothers to look through a camera on set. (Of temperamental directors he remarked dryly: "All their drama is on the set and none on the

Q—Can a woman with uterine fibroids become pregnant?
A—Although in many women fibroids are a cause of sterility this is not universally true. The determining factors would be the size and exact location of the tumor.

Q—Is it true that in performing a Caesarean section the doctor is unable to tell where the fetus is located? If so, isn't there danger that his incision will cut the baby?
A—There is no danger. The doctor's incision is directional and he can feel the baby.

Q—A friend has been told that performing a Caesarean section the doctor is unable to tell where the fetus is located? If so, isn't there danger that his incision will cut the baby?
A—There is no danger. The doctor's incision is directional and he can feel the baby.

Q—In the case of multiple births does each baby have a separate afterbirth?
A—If the babies spring from the same fertilized ovum (identical twins), there would be a single afterbirth or placenta. In fraternal twins, there would be two.

Q—There are rumors that women who have had an appendectomy are more fertile. Is this true?
A—There is no connection between an appendectomy and fertility. The question is, however, because frequently the separate placenta was and became one.

Q—Some people say fluorescent lighting is hard on the eyes. Is this true and does fluorescent lighting destroy vitamin A?
A—Fluorescent lighting has the advantages over a filament bulb that it gives a light more nearly the color of daylight, takes much less current to produce the same amount of illumination, and gives off less heat (infrared rays). The Illuminating Engineering Society has made a thorough study of the subject. They found that fluorescent lighting is not harmful to the eyes and does not cause neck discomfort. It properly used.

4 Appear on Bunkhouse Burglary

RUPERT — Two men were bound over to district court and two asked for a preliminary hearing in probate court Tuesday after being apprehended and charged with second degree burglary of a bunkhouse located at the Mindoka Union Pacific railroad yards July 18.

The men were apprehended by sheriff's officers July 19, after a service station attendant, Lyle Fasset, Mindoka, notified officers that he had seen a camp stove on the back seat of the car in which the men were riding.

Officers said the men had taken a radio, electric blanket and a stove in the break-in.

Involved in the incident were Carl Ussing, 25, Vale, Ore.; Larry Johnson, 30, Long Beach, Calif.; Alex Dionne, 32, Vale, Ore.; and Henry Phillips, 51, Fry, Ariz.

Johnson and Phillips asked for a preliminary hearing and were bound over to district court. Bond was set at $2,500 for each and the four men are being held in the county jail.

Natural Gas Unit Announces Plans

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — El Paso Natural Gas Co. has announced construction plans for new facilities to carry an additional 100 million cubic feet of gas this winter to Idaho, Oregon and Washington.

The gas will come from Canada and construction will begin almost immediately, the announcement said Wednesday. The Federal Power Commission has granted temporary authorization for the firm to invest about $4.5 million.

Begins Visit

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville started a three-day official visit to Hungary today, rounding out a series of visits to improve relations between France and East European Communist regimes. He arrived from Czechoslovakia.

Viet Cong Leaders Make Victory Plans About 75 Miles From Saigon

By GEORGE MCARTHUR SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Hardly 75 miles from Saigon, the shadowy military and political leaders of the Viet Cong make their plans for victory over the Americans.

Their "headquarters" is deep within the matted jungles of northern Tay Ninh Province, a relatively short distance from a sanctuary in Cambodia if need arises.

In terms of real political power, this jungle command post in Tay Ninh is only a way station to implement the orders of Ho Chi Minh in Hanoi. In military terms, however, the jungle planners plot the day-to-day outcome of their war in Viet Nam.

Increasingly, they seem to concentrate on one overriding problem: How to win a showpiece victory from a major American unit.

At the Communists' disposal are some 250,000 fighting men. They have a fulltime guerrilla army seasoned by years of war. There are crack North Vietnamese regulars infiltrated from Hanoi. And they have a host of peasant soldiers who hide their guns by day.

Backing them up is North Viet Nam's 600,000-man regular army which, by U.S. estimate, is sending some 5,000 replacements South each month.

A little over a year ago this force was clearly on the way to victory in Viet Nam. The tactics which had bled and defeated the French were grinding the South Vietnamese army to pieces.

Despite the mounting influx of reinforcements, the South Vietnamese army is still being ground to pieces.

PROJECT EYED TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — Mexico has asked Israel to undertake a Mexican national irrigation planning project, an Agriculture Ministry spokesman reported.

American troops the Communists confidently started to shift into what they call "phase three" — the open-battle climax which the dogma of Mao Tse-tung says will end guerrilla warfare victoriously.

There is every evidence that the Viet Cong strategists are sticking to Mao's doctrine, although it has resulted in a bloody series of battlefield defeats.

The escalation required by Mao — and implemented by Hanoi's Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap — posed tremendous supply problems for the Communists at the same time American helicopters and jets were making this hazardous.

By re-equipping units with Soviet and Chinese weapons the Communists burdened themselves with the need to bring almost all ammunition from the North — a 1,000-mile supply line for remote units. The Red field force requires at least 150,000 pounds of rice daily.

On the evidence thus far, the Communists have been unable to handle these problems and maintain the "strategic mobility" their theories demand.

HAVING GREAT FUN plotting to trick the tricksters in Shakespeare's "The Merry Wives of Windsor," to be presented at 8:30 p.m. Friday by the Antique Festival Theater in the Ramona Theater, Buhl, are Mistress Page, left, played by Helen Gee, Twin Falls, and Mistress Ford, portrayed by Sue Gulligan, Hailey. Considered one of the brightest of the famed bard's perennial favorites, the comedy has abandoned much of the usual poetic dialogue for short, to-the-point speeches. Shakespeare's concept that the village idiot should be the local school-master and that the village parson should get bilked into a duel with swords is only part of the merry making. Art work of Twin Falls students will be featured at the valley fair before the play and during intermission.

Work of T. E. Art Students To Be Featured at Theater

BUHL — Art work of Twin Falls high school graduates and students will be featured at the valley fair before the play and during intermission. The art work display is being arranged by George Wallon, who has been teaching at the Twin Falls High School for four years. He previously taught two years at Bellevue.

The alley fair is open to the public each night of the week-end performances. Artists whose work will be featured includes David Spencer, Kelley Florence, Mary Gilson, John Nelson, John Wray, Ray Rosengarten, Helmut Strelberger, Carolyn Brodine, Becky Hoffmaster, Carol Gwartney and Walton.

Reservations for any of the Antique Festival Theater performances can be made by calling Paul Kilas, 543-5207 or writing the Antique Festival Theater, Buhl.

Trucks Collide

BUHL — Damage of $425 resulted in two pickup trucks involved in a collision at 8:10 a.m. Tuesday on the Castleford road on the southwest corner of Buhl, Police Chief Charles Burbank reports.

Robert Tyler, 31, Buhl, was driving a 1964 Chevrolet pickup truck and collided with a 1962 Ford pickup truck operated by Frank H. Matthews, 65. No citations were issued.

LONDON, Ont. (AP)—A traffic constable suddenly lost his enthusiasm to ticket a violator on the Queen Elizabeth Way. The driver, with wife and boy, aged about 2, and girl, 4, pulled up to await the ticket from the cop's poised notebook when the little girl leaned out and said:

"Two hamburgers with mustard, please." The officer grinned and said, "Okay, friend, on your way."

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT K. WHITESIDES

Susan Bobier, Whitesides Say Wedding Vows

Susan J. Bobier, daughter of Mrs. Helen M. Bobier, Twin Falls, and A. E. Bobier, San Francisco, was married to Robert K. Whitesides, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth M. Whitesides, Twin Falls, July 1.

The couple were united in marriage in a double ring ceremony by the Rev. Olfmar Toebich at the Swedenborgian Church, San Francisco. They were honored at a reception following their marriage at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dudley M. Creed.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white silk shantung sheath with a matching coat. Her shoulder-length veil was held by a seed pearl and lace crown, styled by the bride and her sister, Mrs. Creed. She carried a continental style bouquet made of white daisies, red carnations, blue delphiniums and wheat shafts.

Mrs. Daryl J. Thompson, Pocatello, sister of the bride, was honor-attendant.

Best man was Ens. Troy E. Mathis Jr., Sengoville, Tex.

Whitesides received his B. A. degree in economics from Harvard University in June, 1965. He was graduated from Naval Officers Candidate School, Newport, R. I., June, 1965, and is commissioned as an Ensign in the U.S. Naval Reserve.

The bride has been employed for the last several years by Dincer-Fitzgerald-Sample, Inc., San Francisco.

After further schooling for the bridegroom in Albuquerque, N. M., the couple will reside in Guam.

Little Middle Is Emphasized By Designer

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Fashion Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The leggy-less-with-a-little-middle-and-a lot of money is in this year as far as designer Pauline Trigere is concerned.

So are turtle-pins, hairy dresses, rhinestone bibs and bonnets, men's chevron tie materials, built-in lingerie for shirt dresses and fur formal gowns, and boots as supple and fitted as gloves.

"Suits are out this year," Miss Trigere said as waiters passed cocktails and sandwiches and television cameras ground away during her fall collection opening. "Women want a freshness around the waist."

The models who stepped forward later wore slim coats, jaunty jackets or swingy capes over dresses with fitted or belted middles. Chins disappeared under hugging collars, huge ascots, and yards of scarves. But no bulk went to waist.

Other figure faults would have been indiscernible under Trigere's fashion formula. The flat front and back of skirts flared or pleated at the sides.

In tweeds and knits the mantles slipped into plant leather boots that reached higher than their above-the-knee hemlines.

Sometimes silk neck scarves matched the linings of collarless coats. Other times the inside story of cape-like coats was furry warmth.

A wardrobe of fitted dresses, long and short, some with swirling cape coats, and made of Russian broadtail were among latest Trigere status symbol offerings. The really one-up-manship dinner gown was of broadtail, bordered, cuffed and collared in Russian sable.

Modesty bibs are what the once French designer calls those collars of twinkling rhinestones and which models tucked into their plunging necklines, or wore with bare-shouldered dresses.

There were glittering baby bonnets to match the hats.

For grand entrances were gowns gleaming in silver and gold; and jewel embroidered see-through dresses, some with nude-hued slips.

And there were floating chiffons with built-in petticoats for cool-comfort—Many gowns bristled with hair like plumage.

Gold turtle pins were worn everywhere, even on the hem line of Miss Trigere's own dress—collecting turtles in her hobby. Slivers of rhinestones were pinned in odd places such as the cuff of a long sleeved dress. And rosebuds sometimes grew out of one side of a collar or covered the cleavage otherwise exposed by a low necked dress.

After the show, the audience shouted for the author. And Miss Trigere sat down on the platform and cried.

Mix-Match Game Important For Wardrobe

BY HELEN HENNESSY
NEW YORK (NEA) — When you can mix and match a wardrobe with co-ordinate parts that can take you anywhere from the beach to your favorite discotheque, you have the summer clothes problem well in hand.

This season one sportswear firm offers a collection of fabric and color co-ordinated "go anywhere" togs that you can mix and match through the entire summer.

This collection, called "Palm Desert," is in sun and sand colors. A Paisley print that blends all the sunburned desert tones is teamed with solids in mess brown, pinata beige and sundown orange to play off the Paisley in perfect harmony.

There are Garrison pants, sleeping pants, bell bottoms and bermudas as well as shells, jackets, blouses, skirts and shifts. There are knits and wovens, easy-care blends, lightweight lawns and textured linen looks.

For week-ending there are the new, low-slung Garrison pants with wide belt and cuffed, straight legs in any of three solid colors. With this you might wear a long-sleeved, printed flared pullover or a ribbed poor boy top in contrasting color.

When you're feeling especially western, there's a complete Caballero group in the collection. This includes an embroidered-back bronco shirt in brown with beige or orange and matching, buck-zippered pants in brown or orange. There is also a cuncho shell with embroidered hip detail and a variety of other togs.

The Paisley print group offers town looks as well as country style and lets you put together whole outfits in the print or co-ordinate your own print and plain combinations.

And, in addition, there are shifts in solid colors or Paisley print in body linen. Adorn and even own with a dindi skirt.

These all tie together to take you anywhere on a summer day or evening.

Insurance Policy Noted In Killing

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — Dr. Carl Coppolino, indicted for first-degree murder in the death of his first wife and a neighbor, has divested himself of any interest in a $25,000 insurance policy on her life, it was learned today.

Coppolino, 34, whose arraignment was set off until Sept. 1 at his request Wednesday, had filed suit to collect the policy on his wife, Carmella, 32, who died last Aug. 28.

According to Sarasota County records, the insurance company, Professional Life and Casualty of Chicago, denied its liability for payment on the grounds that Mrs. Coppolino, who also was a doctor, died "of other than natural causes" and had "made false representations concerning the state of her health."

Coppolino, through an attorney, has arranged that any payment he might receive under the policy now go into a trust fund for his two daughters, Monica, 9, and Lisa, 4. His present wife, Mary, has been named executrix of the trust fund.

Records show Mrs. Coppolino filed a petition two weeks ago to adopt the two girls by her husband's previous marriage.

Coppolino was scheduled for arraignment Wednesday, but asked for the delays so that his vacationing defense lawyer, James H. McEwen of Tampa, could be on hand for the arraignment.

American Negro Preaches U.S. Black Rebellion in Broadcasts From Cuba

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Robert F. Williams, an American Negro who spoke for Fidel Castro in advocating racial disorder in the United States, apparently has shifted his base of operations to Asia.

Williams preached U.S. black rebellion for more than three years in English-language broadcasts over the Cuban government-controlled radio. Japanese authorities have reported hearing him in recent broadcasts from Viet Nam and Red China.

Miami monitors of Havana Radio noted that Williams discontinued his broadcasts last March. His weekly Radio Free Dixie program directed to U.S. Negroes continued for a while with a woman announcer.

For several weeks, Radio Free Dixie has not been heard.

But observers of the Cuban scene say Williams' organization, Revolutionary Action Movement, continues to function in Cuba.

Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach has said in Washington that he is looking into the possibility of a connection between the Revolutionary Action Movement and racial disturbances in this country.

Wednesday, Williams was reported in a Red China broadcast monitored in Tokyo as having been a banquet guest of the China Peace Committee and the Asian Solidarity in Peking.

The Citizens Committee for a Free Cuba said in Miami that besides operating for the Castro government, "Williams is also connected with the North Vietnamese government, has traveled to Hanoi, and from there will broadcast to American Negro troops in South Viet Nam," urging them to lay down their arms.

Discontinued along with Williams' Havana broadcasts was "The Crusader," a "monthly newsletter" he edited in Cuba and distributed in the United States.

In one issue, he said: "The weapons of defense employed by Afro-American freedom fighters must consist of a poor man's arsenal. Gasoline fire bombs (Molotov cocktails), lye or acid bombs (made by injecting lye or acid in the metal end of light bulbs) can be used extensively."

In a broadcast early this year,

HALFWAY THROUGH COLLEGE. Michael Groat, Lansing, Mich., is only 12 years old and stands less than five feet. However, at Michigan State University he's head and shoulders above most students. The robust youngster plugged quietly along among 35,000 other students studying calculus, physics, religion and French and computer science. His grades were all A's with two B's. (AP wirephoto)

12-Year-Old Gets Grant For Mathematical Research

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Mike Groat is one student with no summer vacation problem. "Hey, Mom, what is there to do?" The National Science Foundation—summer program, designed to teach research methods to college undergraduates.

"I'm enjoying it," said Mike. "It's not at all like work."

The short summer work week was designed to give Mike time for recreation with his family and friends his age.

Soviets Said Near Sending Life to Moon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rocket scientist Werner Von Braun was quoted here Wednesday night as saying he thinks the Soviet Union is close to sending live animals or men to the moon.

Von Braun's predictions were carried in a story by the Washington Post-Los Angeles Times news service. It was written by Rudy Abramson of the Times.

"I am convinced," Von Braun was quoted, "the Russians are very close to being able to do one of two things — either go circum-lunar (meaning to send astronauts on a flight around the moon) or land a dog on the moon and bring him back."

Von Braun said his belief was based on statements made from time to time by Soviet officials about their space program.

Mike agreed and moved into the perfect spot for a crew-cut 100-pounder — coxswain for an intramural racing shell.

Mike was the youngest known freshman in the United States since 1866. He could receive a master's degree before he is old enough to drive, and a doctorate at an age when many students are just entering college.

Mike's father, William Groat of Lansing, says that it is important whether Mike receives his bachelor's degree at age 14. He and his wife, Audrey, would rather see him proceed slowly, taking extra courses and exploring new fields.

As a junior, Mike has to pick a major field and has decided on physical science.

He has been working with Dr. Fritz Herzog, a mathematics professor, to catch up on some steps he missed by not taking high school math. He has taken courses in advanced calculus.

He also is working 20 hours a week on the National Science Foundation—summer program, designed to teach research methods to college undergraduates.

Additional information and application forms are available at local State Department of Employment offices and Fish and Game Department.

'Black Power' To Be Defined At Conference

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two Negro leaders say they are calling a national conference to define "black power" and specify its goals.

Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., and Stokely Carmichael, chairman of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, told a news conference Wednesday the meeting will be held in Washington Labor Day weekend.

Carmichael said leaders of all types of Negro organizations will be invited. Invitations also will be extended to whites, he said, "if they have any black power."

Chrysler Has Lower Earnings

NEW YORK (AP)—Chrysler Corp. became the third of the Big Three automakers to report lower earnings for the second quarter of the year.

The nation's third largest automobile producer reported net income of $54.4 million or $1.20 a share, compared with $9.8 million or $1.47 a share in the June quarter of 1965.

Net income for the six months ended June 30 fell to $116.9 million or $1.58 a share from $184.4 million or $2.91 a share in the first half of last year.

Ford Motor Co. Wednesday reported a net income of $127 million or $2.83 a share in the first six months of 1966. That compared with $138.1 million or $3.55 a share during last year's first six months.

The firm said its decline in profits was due primarily to increased costs of labor, materials and costs associated with facility expansion programs and higher product and marketing costs.

General Motors Corp. gave identical reasons for its profit drop Tuesday.

American Motors Corp., whose fiscal year ends Sept. 30, will report quarterly figures next Monday.

Music Camp Concert Program Set

Program details for weekend concert of the Sun Valley Music Camp facility have been announced by Mrs. Donald Youtz, state scholarship chairman.

Friday's concert will be at 7:45 p.m. at the Sun Valley Opera House, featuring Michi Nori, concert pianist, playing "Fantasia" by Benjamin Lees and the finale from "New Dance" by Wallingford Riegger. An instrumental group will perform "Sextour" by Poulenc.

Instrumentalists are Harold Mueller, flute; Ivan Lunde Jr., oboe; James Hopper, clarinet; Ruth Ann Beckley, bassoon; Gaylen Hatten, horn; and Carol March, piano. Samuel Thaviv, violinist, playing "Sonata in G for Violin and Piano," Opus 78 by Brahms, will conclude the concert.

Thaviv, violin instructor at the camp, has served 17 consecutive seasons as concertmaster of the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra. He has held the same position with the Kansas City, Baltimore and Cleveland orchestras. Thaviv is an annual soloist with the Pittsburgh Symphony and has been featured performer with many music organizations throughout the United States. He has been head of the violin department at the University of West Virginia and the Carnegie Institute of Technology. Thaviv will serve in a new position this fall, as chairman of the Music Department strings at Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill.

Sunday's concert will be at 4 p.m. at the Opera House. Gaylen Hatten, horn soloist, and Dr. Murray North, pianist, will play "Romance" by Saint-Saens and "Reveries" by Glazunov. ## TWIN FALLS FLOUR MILL PRESENTS

IDAHO POWER CO. historic Lower Salmon generating plant, slated to be open for public tours Sunday in observance of the utility's 50th anniversary, harnesses this site on the Snake River near Hagerman. This modern 70,000-kilowatt facility was completed in 1949 after Idaho Power dismantled a small-capacity plant taken over in 1916.

Open House Scheduled Sunday at Idaho Power Plant Near Hagerman

HAGERMAN—Idaho Power Co., now marking a half-century of service to the Snake River Valley that began Aug. 1, 1916, will have a public open house at its Lower Salmon generating plant near Hagerman Sunday to highlight observance of the historic "golden" anniversary.

The event, one of six public tours of facilities throughout the utility's interconnected system, will see the plant opened to inspection by visitors from 1 to 6 p.m.

"Our customers in Magic Valley are cordially invited to take advantage of this opportunity to view the Lower Salmon plant on this special occasion," said E. E. Haroldsen, southern division manager.

"The open house has been especially planned by Idaho Power to permit them to share in observance of our 50 years of service to Southern Idaho and Eastern Oregon."

In addition to tours of the plant, conducted by its operating staff under Superintendent Carroll Hill, refreshments will be served.

Open houses will be held simultaneously by the utility at the American Falls, C. J. Strike, Brownlee and Oxbow generating plants and at the Boise Bench substation, "nerve center" of Idaho Power's system-wide transmission center.

On Monday, the company's customers will be welcomed to permit them to share in observance of the utility's 50th anniversary at its division and district offices, where employees will serve birthday cake to visitors.

Haroldsen said the Lower Salmon plant is "interesting to our not only as a modern producer of electricity for the Snake River Valley, but also because of the historic part it has played in Idaho Power's continuing expansion to serve area growth in the past 50 years."

Now capable of producing 70,000 kilowatts of electricity, the facility occupies the site of a small-capacity plant that Idaho Power took over when it was created from the consolidation of five predecessor companies in 1916.

Idaho Power, modernizing existing facilities and building new ones in the years following World War I, installed an additional 2,600-kilowatt generating unit in the plant in 1910.

In 1935, the utility replaced two of the plant's turbines and improved its dam to boost total capacity to 7,200 kilowatts.

After World War II, the beefed-up original plant was dismantled and Idaho Power built the present facility in its place. The present plant was completed in 1949.

"We have carried on a program of modifications and maintenance at the Lower Salmon plant ever since to keep pace with advances in generation equipment and techniques," Haroldsen said.

Besides generating electricity, according to the manager, the plant is becoming a "nerve center" for remote-control operation of Idaho Power's plants and transmission lines in Hagerman Valley.

The Lower Salmon operators already control generation at the Upper and Lower Malad plants, both completed in 1948, as well as switching at the King transmission station nearby.

Housing Unit Okays Funds For Industry

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Housing subcommittee has approved a proposal to make $3 billion available to the nation's housing industry to ease tight credit conditions.

The subcommittee also approved a two-year trial plan for rebuilding urban slums and blighted areas under President Johnson's demonstration cities program.

The measure now goes to the full Senate Banking Committee. Sen. John J. Sparkman, D-Ala., subcommittee chairman, said the extra $3 billion for the housing industry would become available through the Federal National Mortgage Association, which purchases and sells insured mortgages of the Federal Housing Administration and other federal housing agencies.

Prohibition in Mississippi Concludes After 58 Years

BILOXI, Miss. (AP)—Police poured in Mississippi after 58 years of prohibition, which really never did work.

The Gulf Coast, particularly, never paid any attention to prohibition.

A score of more rushed into the Broadwater's lounge when the ribbon was severed by the mayor and County Supervisor Laz Quave.

"On the house," cried Dorsett.

And it was, until the three cases were consumed. Then the cash register began to ring.

"It still tastes the same," said one drinker. "But somehow it seems better because it's legal."

Mayor Gulco said the arrival of legal liquor "will be a boon to our tourist industry and industrialization as well as removing the hypocritical attitude which the state has had toward whiskey."

Prohibition ended July 1 but it took 27 days for the state to put the machinery in effect to legally sell whiskey.

Seven counties have already approved legal liquor sales. More are on it within a few days. Liquor by the drink will be permitted only in areas designated by the state as resorts.

Mississippi was the first to approve the national prohibition amendment in 1919 and became the last state to repeal the ban on booze.

Coed With Amputated Leg Is "Glad To Be Alive"

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP)—Two years ago, pretty Roberta Scott's left leg had to be amputated because of cancer. But her zest for living wasn't lost.

"I'd rather lose my leg than my life," commented the former runner-up in the Miss Oklahoma competition. "I get too much enjoyment out of life to sit and gripe about it."

Sluggish isn't one of the things the 22-year-old Oklahoma State University coed does best—she's seldom still and her enthusiasms range from yard work, water skiing and pool to just cheering up others who have suffered setbacks.

"If anything," she says, "I've added to my activities rather than given any up."

Miss Scott often visits hospitals to "give encouragement to fellow-members-of-the-fraternity of the wooden leg."

A native of Ada, Miss Scott attended school in Tulsa. She was doing part-time modeling by the time she graduated from Will Rogers High School and included tap and ballet dancing, singing and summer stock theater work among her accomplishments.

In 1961, she was chosen Miss Tulsa and was second runner-up that year in the Miss Oklahoma beauty contest. She already had included a number of local beauty and talent trophies in her collection.

Admittedly interested in aiming for a career in the theater, she worked for her degree in elementary teaching with emphasis on music instruction.

When she was a senior, Miss Scott learned she had cancer. On Feb. 18, 1964, she entered the hospital. Her leg was amputated on March 4.

"God had his arm around me," she comments simply. "I didn't cry about it—and I haven't."

The only complaint she is likely to voice is "Just after a rain, when it is hot and the grass is wet, I would like to be able to run across the pastures barefooted."

Her drive was obvious even just after losing the leg. Eight days after the operation, she slipped out of bed and hopped to telephone to tell another patient she was already out of bed.

Miss Scott has returned to school, with her training now slanted toward special education for elementary students who are slow or retarded, the problem learners.

Margaret Wiggins, special education teacher at Stillwater's Lincoln Elementary School, is in charge of Miss Scott's practice teaching.

She says Miss Scott's ability to overcome the difficulties of her handicap encourages the youngsters around her to try their best to do the same. Mrs. Wiggins says Roberta is a "hard worker" who has been a "tremendous help" in dealing with the children.

For Miss Scott, every day is a rich and rewarding experience undimmed by the loss of her leg. Her outlook and activity proves the philosophy she expresses by saying:

"I'm so glad to be alive."

The Daily Investor

By WILLIAM A. DOYLE

Q. I know that the price-earnings ratio of a stock is computed by dividing the present market price of the stock by its per share earnings for the past 12 months. As you have stressed, the earnings should be for the last 12 months reported by the company — not "estimated" earnings for the future, as some brokers try to do.

But what is the significance of a "P-E" ratio? How can it be used in evaluating a stock? Can it be used to compare different stocks?

Does it follow that the market price of a stock will rise when its earnings rise? When its earnings fall?

A. The basic significance of a P-E ratio is that it tells you whether a stock's market price is high or low, in relation to the stock's earnings. This, of course, helps you evaluate the true worth of the stock.

Say that XYZ common stock is currently trading at $16 a share and the XYZ Corp. has reported earnings equal to $1 on its share for the last 12 months. The P-E ratio is 16 to 1.

Now let's say that the XYZ Corp. reports earnings of $2 a share for the last 12 months. The P-E ratio is 8 to 1.

At this point, you can see that the P-E ratio is a tool by which you compare one stock with another. This generally does not mean that all stocks have the same P-E ratio. Generally, stocks of equal potential in the same industry have about the same P-E ratios. Beyond that, things vary greatly.

As a very rough rule of thumb, growth stocks (those with record of and/or potential for increasing earnings) have high P-E ratios. This usually means that the stock is selling at a premium to its P-E ratio.

But this doesn't provide a sure answer to your last question. Even though a rise in earnings does not mean a rise in the stock price, a rise in earnings in market value of the stock involved, it does not necessarily follow that such a thing will happen.

The price-earnings ratio is a mighty handy and important tool for investors and speculators. But neither it, nor any other single factor, can assure success in the stock market.

Q. Please select a friendly argument. I received some literature from a mutual savings bank. It stated that I could have my money deposited in an individual account, up to $50,000 in a joint or trust account.

A. There's no room for argument. The insurance coverage is $10,000 on each account.

The $10,000 per account limit applies to bank accounts covered by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. and savings and loan association accounts covered by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corp.

You can, of course, have a number of different accounts in the same institution—each with insurance coverage up to $10,000.

Q. Would you say that an established mutual fund is safer than a new fund?

A. No, I would say that all funds carry some degree of risk. The words "safety" and "risk" are not really interchangeable.

NEW YORK (AP) — Rising interest rates in Europe are a stumbling block for those who are clamoring for Congress to cut interest rates in the United States.

Europe gets into the domestic debate this year. Europe's much higher rates could attract more dollars to the continent, higher rates. Lowering interest rates here on short-term money could send this pool of temporarily idle dollars — usually called "hot money" — overseas.

And this would make it just that much harder for the United States to see that the dollar doesn't become the British pound.

The guardians of the dollar's status of being as good as gold are having plenty of trouble even with the rate of the dollar in market value of the stock involved, it does not necessarily follow that such a thing will happen.

For one thing, the U.S. trade gap in narrowing. Exports still top imports, but by less than in previous years. Imports are growing at a 15 percent clip, and exports by only 8 percent. This cuts the balance of trade in around $4 billion a year, against more than $5 billion last year and $6 billion in 1964.

This means fewer dollars that the United States can use to offset its rising dollar-spending abroad for other things such as the Viet Nam war, foreign aid, and so on.

Travel: The guardians of the dollar aren't anxious to see the U.S. balance of payments deficit grow. They are anxious to see it boosted by a flight of dollars seeking higher interest yields overseas.

There are a lot of dollars overseas now, called "hot money," with the total estimated as high as $3 billion. These are in private rather than foreign government hands, and were sent to the United States to run a payments deficit.

Giant Errors Help Pirates Regain Lead

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Two ninth-inning errors by third baseman Jim Davenport and Bill Mazeroski run-scoring single lifted Pittsburgh back into first place in the National League Wednesday as the Pirates downed San Francisco, 5-3.

Don Clendenon, who had homered earlier, opened the Pirates ninth with a bunt single and continued to second when Davenport threw wildly past first. Then Jim Pagliaroni sacrificed and was safe when Davenport bobbled the ball.

Mazeroski followed with his single and Manny Mota delivered a sacrifice fly for the second-run-off-the-inning. The Pirates led 3-2 with two runs in the fifth. Hal Lanier led off with the first hit and singles and moved to third as pinch-hitter Bob Burda doubled to right.

High Water Temperature and Carbon Dioxide Hit Mormon Reservoir Fish

A combination of high water temperatures and carbon dioxide in Mormon Reservoir, south of Fairfield, has prompted the Idaho Fish and Game Department to ask increased fishing pressure on the impoundment.

Snake River are drawing down. There is a boat ramp access problem on Roosevelt because of low water. The best fishing is late in the evenings and early in the mornings. The reservoir is also dropping fast and the crappie fishing has slowed down. Big and Little Smoky rivers out of Fairfield are rather low and somewhat difficult to fish. Fly fishing is in full swing on Silver Creek.

The problem of temperature shows the highs reaching 74 degrees in the water with the lows dropping to 50 degrees at night. Cooler. As a result, the reservoir has increased vegetation which is using up available oxygen and replacing it with car-

The carbon dioxide becomes critical in early morning when it is still. Generally a day time wind springs up causing some wave action and this allows a regeneration of oxygen," Morache noted.

In his weekly state fishing roundup the department noted that huckleberry picking is competing with fishing as an outdoor attraction in Northern Idaho.

Stream fishing was reported tapering off because of low, warm water conditions. Low-level reservoir fishing was slow, except for early and late in the day. Best fishing was reported in the high mountain lakes. Here is the department's region-by-region summary:

Sunfish

WESTERLY, R.I. (AP)—Lifeguards cleared the water near Misquamicutt State Beach of several hundred bathers recently when they sighted a fin in the water. It turned out to be a large ocean sunfish, instead of a shark, as feared.

Forester Will Transfer to Stanley Post

YOUR BIRTHDAY and HOROSCOPE

THURSDAY, July 28 — Born on the way to your goal.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 21) — The intense vitality of Pisces today should result in exceptional gains. Possibility of advancement professionally is high.

ARIES (March 22-April 20) — Form and substance are both of importance at this time. It isn't only what you do or say but also how you do or say it.

TAURUS (April 21-May 21) — Business associates should be receptive to your ideas today if you present them tactfully — especially where they go against another's views.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21) — The Gemini who insists upon leading an exceptional life may be in for disappointment today. Mundane things take on importance.

CANCER (July 22-July 23) — An excellent day for establishing a new personal relationship. Take care that you don't spurn a stranger who could be a friend.

AIDE ELECTED — "BOSTON" (AP) — Joseph L. Aims of St. Louis, Mo., has been elected secretary-treasurer of the 300,000-member American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, AFL-CIO.

Although you may not achieve a position of great authority in your chosen profession, the run you do reach on the ladder of success will no doubt be firm and stable, and you should not have to fear any loss either of position or prestige. Your own excellence and your determined loyalty to those who are in authority should guarantee you this.

In your personal relationships you may not be as fortunate as your friends — at least not very early in the game. As you grow older, however, and come to terms with yourself and with the world about you, you should develop a way with others that will make your personal relationships the envy of many. This is especially true in your marriage which, though you may come to it late, should be an extremely happy one.

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Friday, July 29
LEO (July 24-Aug. 23) — Guard against any undisciplined flamboyance that could cost you valuable time. These are days when you should be giving your all for your goal.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23) — See that minor details are handled with care; otherwise you may find the completed whole devoid of any real meaning.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23) — A day which may hold an atmosphere of unreality about it. Avoid escaping into a dream world as a result, or you may forfeit success.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) — The complicated structure of today's unusual routine may prove dismaying at first. Stick with it and you should make gains by evening.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22) — Problems may remain unresolved without ill effects to-day. Don't try to push matters to a conclusion; you may be premature.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20) — Conflict may be openly expressed today in your reactions to other people. Take care that you don't go too far.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19) — A most ambitious day for Aquarius. You should be able to achieve a mark of high standing and pass another milestone
